

Named Characters

Sarah Brown - Leader of the Save-A-Soul Mission. A beautiful doll of forthright manner and puritan outlook, under which lurks a vibrant personality glimpsed under the influence of several milkshakes laced with bacardi.

Sky Masterson - Big-time gambler, thus named to illustrate how high he bets. A good looking guy with style and a big ego - highly respected by the gambling fraternity.

Nathan Detroit - Full-time gambler who has run the illegal floating crap game ever since he was a juvenile delinquent. A very sharp guy who lives by his wits, which generally are no match for his adversaries.

Miss Adelaide - Nathan's frustrated fiancée (of 14 years) and star doll at The Hot Box night club. Suffers permanently from a psychosomatic cold which only marriage can cure. Must be able to dance.

Nicely-Nicely Johnson - A roly-poly, simple guy with a happy nature, especially when he's eating, whose main function when not playing the horses is to run errands for Nathan.

Arvide Abernathy – Sarah's Grandfather or Grandmother

Harry the Horse - Gambler

Benny Southstreet - Gambler
